Disclaimer:-
Caliber Capital Gains /Loss statement does not consider the Indexation benefit for the Client.

Caliber statement calculates the gain/ loss on the basis of a single feed received from the RTA with average price, so if the redemption for a particular scheme on a particular day has both long term and short term capital gains, this is likely to show differently on Caliber to the extent of the exit load, if any, charged on the short term redemption by the AMC.

Total Return variant of an Index (TRI) takes into account all dividends/ interest payments that are generated from the basket of constituents that make up the index in addition to the capital gains.

3. Value of options held: The portfolio value for options is valued at the amount of premium paid. The IRR is not calculated on options held.

4. Basis on which holding price is calculated: The date of the last updated price is specified against eachinstrument. The prices of these have been taken from trade data on exchanges, and other sources suchas mutual fund houses and Bloomberg.

5. Basis on which returns are calculated: The IRR for all assets is calculated on an annualized basis on all securities in the portfolio, whether they have been sold or are still held with us.

6. Valuation and Liquidity of Structured Products: The values of equity linked debentures are derived from valuations provided by the issuer/calculation agent appointed by issuer. The value of a Debenture, prior to the Redemption and Maturity Date, may be affected by a number of factors, including but not limited to, the level of the underlying (equity index or stocks), option volatility, interest rates and time to maturity. Client (even in a 100% protected debenture) could lose money over short periods (or early exits) due to changes in the above variables. Although these debentures would be listed on exchange(s), there can be no assurance that an active secondary market will develop or be maintained. Due to this the Structured Products may be illiquid and quote below their face value.

7. Valuation and Liquidity of Bonds: The prices of traded bonds are taken from sources such as FIMMDA, Bloomberg and trade data on exchanges. Exit is subject to availability of liquidity and exit prices are subject to prevailing interest rates and credit market situation.

8. Valuation of AIF / PMS Scheme

(i). Market value of AIF Schemes displayed in the statement are calculated based on latest NAV price per unit provided by issuer / Investment Manager / AMC.

(ii). Market value of all AIF schemes of 360 ONE AMC (Category II AIFs & Category III AIFs) are calculated based on pre-tax NAV price per unit provided by 360 ONE AMC. However, in case of schemes namely 360 ONE Blended Fund-Series C, IA Opportunities Fund - Series 1 and Yield Enhancer Fund, NAV price per unit provided by 360 ONE AMC is post-tax NAV. Market value of such schemes are valued accordingly in the statement.

(iii). Please note that allotment and redemption of units of all of Category III AIF Units are done at Post-Tax NAVs declared by Category III AIFs (where 360 ONE is the IM). Charges (including exit loads if applicable, taxes, etc.) will be applicable at the time of redemption.

(iv). Market value of PMS Schemes displayed in the statement are based on latest valuation provided by issuer / Investment Manager / AMC

9.Unit update for Managed Account Product

i) The updation of the Alternative Investment Fund (AIF) units in the Holding/transaction report is for informational purposes only and is not intended to impact the taxation of these units, this report does not alter or affect the taxation status, treatment, or implications of holding AIF units under current tax laws and regulations. Investor needs to refer the AMC statement or consult the tax advisor for the tax treatment.

ii) AIF unit values are always current date.

c) The latest NAV update date corresponds to the AIF unit update date.

d) The units update is not applicable to PMS products.

10. Transaction Update of AIF / PMS Scheme:

As a distributor to the AMC, we update the transaction report for Alternate Investment Funds (AIF) and Managed Accounts, i.e. PMS schemes, to track the inflows and outflows of the investor's corpus in order to calculate the XIRR.

In cases where the corpus outflow exceeds the corpus inflow, the holding cost of the investment is displayed as NIL, rather than showing a negative value.

Managed account and AIF transactions in the system are recorded as value-based transactions, not unit-based transactions.

Please note, this report is for informational purposes only and does not affect the taxation status or treatment of AIF units under current tax laws and regulations. It is not intended to alter or impact any tax implications.

For any tax-related queries, investors should refer to the official AMC statement or consult their tax advisor to understand the appropriate tax treatment.
The Compensatory contribution, if charged, on investment in any AIF, is shown as Holding Cost. For taxation on such investment, kindly refer to the communication shared by the AMC of the respective funds and consult your tax advisors.
